Every morning, a box truck drops up to 120 Amazon packages off at Ed Wojtan's house in Houghton Lake, Mich.

Wojtan loads the packages into his personal truck and delivers them to his neighbors in the remote vacation town about 120 miles north of Lansing. He makes $2.50 per package, delivers an average of 50 a day, and is almost always done by 10 a.m.

Sports betting revenue and casino betting revenue can vary depending on several factors, including the popularity of sports events, the size and location of casinos, and the regulatory framework in different regions.

What's the primary difference? Casino betting revenue generally tends to be significantly higher than sports betting revenue.

These games are available throughout the year, and the casinos' operational hours are often 24/7.

As a result, the revenue generated by casinos tends to be substantial.

On the other hand, sports betting involves wagering on the outcome of sporting events
