Also, while I understand that this is a free app, and of course there have to be ads, I don't appreciate ads popping up in the middle of a spin, ads promising a free spin ending with an error message and no spin, etc., etc.

But I've kept playing because the games are fun.

I've spent money buying extra coins, because the games are fun.

That being said.

"In the 6 or so years I've played this game, that was a first!

And they told me they'd reviewed my account, and saw no indication I'd hit that jackpot, and would therefore do nothing.

I'm deleting the app as soon as I post this review.

Professional punters never go over the line according to the former deputy director of the New Jersey Council of Compulsive Gambling.
